Dublin, Ireland

Multidisciplinary graphic designer with a bachelor degree in Digital Design. Throughout my career I've worked on many digital projects, including web design / mobile app design / software design / UI/UX design areas. With my experience in the field and passion for design, I believe I'd be a great addition to your team.

Ambitious, passion-driven, determined to find a job where I can use and challenge my skills and work with other creatives on developing human-centered design projects.
